Hi Zandra,

I have written to you on several occasions about my research on the Fluty's and Horn's of Martin Co. KY.

This past week I visited Washington County, VA -- researching a different family line. However, I had my husband look up some Horn family names while we were there.

He discovered a deed in which Frederick Horn, Sr. bought some property in 1804 in Washington Co. VA from John Stout.

Witnesses were -- Henry Crum, Leonard Rickard, and Adam Crum.

The deed recorded before that particular deed (involving Henry Crum) had as the 3 witnesses -- Adam Crum, Frederick Horn, and Frederick Horn (the last Frederick Horn's name was _written/signed in Germany_).

In 1810, Floyd Co. KY, we find Adam Crum, Henry Crum, and Frederick Horn.

Interesting? I would like to hear your thoughts.

Though explorers, trappers, and hunters made trips into what is now East Tennessee and Virginia as early as the 1670's the first permanent settlements in Washington and Sullivan County did not occur until 1769. Most of the early migration to Upper east Tennessee was through the Great Valley which runs northeast to southwest from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania to North Georgia. Even those migrating from North Carolina would many times travel up into Virginia then come down through the valley. Travel was made easier when Virginia opened a good road to the North-of-Holston area which enabled salt to be brought from the nearest lick (Saltville, VA) and goods from Baltimore and Philadelphia.

In the 1780's the major "highways" consisted of Forbes Road, Zane's Trace, the Great Valley Road, and the Wilderness Road. There were also other routes that went to larger towns that were often initially established because of their location on a major river or they were major trading posts at the edges of "civilization". One must also keep in mind that in addition to these land routes the rivers were also routes of mass travel. This includes the Ohio River, serving Cincinnati and Louisville and eventually entering the Mississippi River, and the Tennessee River, fed by the Holston, the French Broad and the Clinch Rivers going from east Tennessee south to northern Georgia and then turning north through middle Tennessee and then into Kentucky where it finally flows into the Mississippi River as well.

Many of the original settlers around the "Island of the Holston" (as Sullivan Co. was known then) were from Baltimore and surrounding areas in Maryland. As you can see the Great Valley Road from Pennsylvania, down the Shanedoah Valley of Virginia to the Island of the Holston River. Later settler's would begin to move west to Cumberland Gap and then north through Kentucky on the Wilderness Road.

After the American Revolution, settlers were drawn to the area of Sullivan County because of the opening of the western land, the need for North Carolina to pay its war debt and the desire to compensate those in the service of their country. It should be noted however that the lands grants of Washington and Sullivan County were purchase land grants. Though there were no military grants in this area, many of the soldiers who fought in the Revolutionary War were compensated with land grants in what Davidson and Sumner Counties. Parts of Sullivan County, prior to 1779, were considered to be in Virginia and in fact many of the first grants were issued by that state. (See Same Place, Different Name) Still other parts were considered to be part of North Carolina. Many times the settlers ran into problems in getting their grants and deeds recognized. So it was for this reason the State of Franklin was formed. The state of Franklin with it's capital in Knoxville Tennessee was of short duration and gave way to the formation of the state of Tennessee.

Even after the Tennessee became a state there still was changes for our ancestors of Sullivan Co. The area that consists of today's Sullivan County was first part of Washington County, Tennessee. Then in October 1779 the act was passed to form Sullivan County from "that part of Washington County lying north of a line formed by the ridge dividing the waters of the Watauga from those of the Holston, and extending from the termination of this ridge to the highest point of the Chimney Top Mountain".

Sorry, but nearly everything I looked at led to a dead end.

Dear Zandra,

Wesley and I finally made the trip to Lawrence Co., KY and visited the Court House. We just went for the day so didn't have time to go on to Inez or visit Floyd. I will give you what we found.

John Hobbs and Margaret Horn, father Michael Horn, - bond dated 22 Sept. 1849

James M. Hobbs and Mary Ladlen - bond dated 10 July 1839

Felix Hammon of Wane Co., VA, age 32 yrs. (2nd marriage), b. Knox Co., KY and Christina Horn of Lawrence Co., KY, age 17 yrs., b. Lawrence Co., KY father - Frederick Horn and mother - Catharine Chafin married by C. M. Pack, J.P. - also recorded in Book 2A

Wesley T. Spencer and Sarah Horn - married by Wm. Miller, M.B. Church at the house of Wm. Miller - marriage book 2A

I hope you can find something further on Hannah Hobbs. I have searched my records and couldn't find anything on that name. I believe we should look for a marriage record for Hannah Mullins and Henry(?) Hobbs.

We have had a very hot summer and fall and didn't get out very much to do research, and now it has suddenly turned cold. Yesterday we had snow flurries. Nothing on the ground but just a few flakes in the air now and then.

I hope you can use this data to advantage.

Sincerely,

Margie

SUBJECT: TN - HAWKINS

Zandra: Most of the folks who settled in Hawkins Co TN in the late 1700's and early 1800's came from Virginia and NC. The travel route across the Appalachian mountains went through Hawkins Co. So it was a natural place for them to stop and some settled there. My family moved from the Caswell Co area of NC and Pittsylvania Co VA to Hawkins Co. Regards, Richard in Herndon, VA

Mr. A.M. Burns

State of Kentucky
Frankfort, Kentucky

Dear Sir:

I advise you from the papers in the Revolutionary War pension claim, S. 2321, it appears that Frederick Harn enlisted at Easton, Pennsylvania, in 1776, and served fourteen months in Captain Thomas Craig's Company, Colonel Arthur St. Clair's Pennsylvania Regiment and was in the expedition to Quebec.

He was allowed pension on his application executed November 13, 1832, in Hamilton County, Ohio, at which time he was aged seventy-six years.

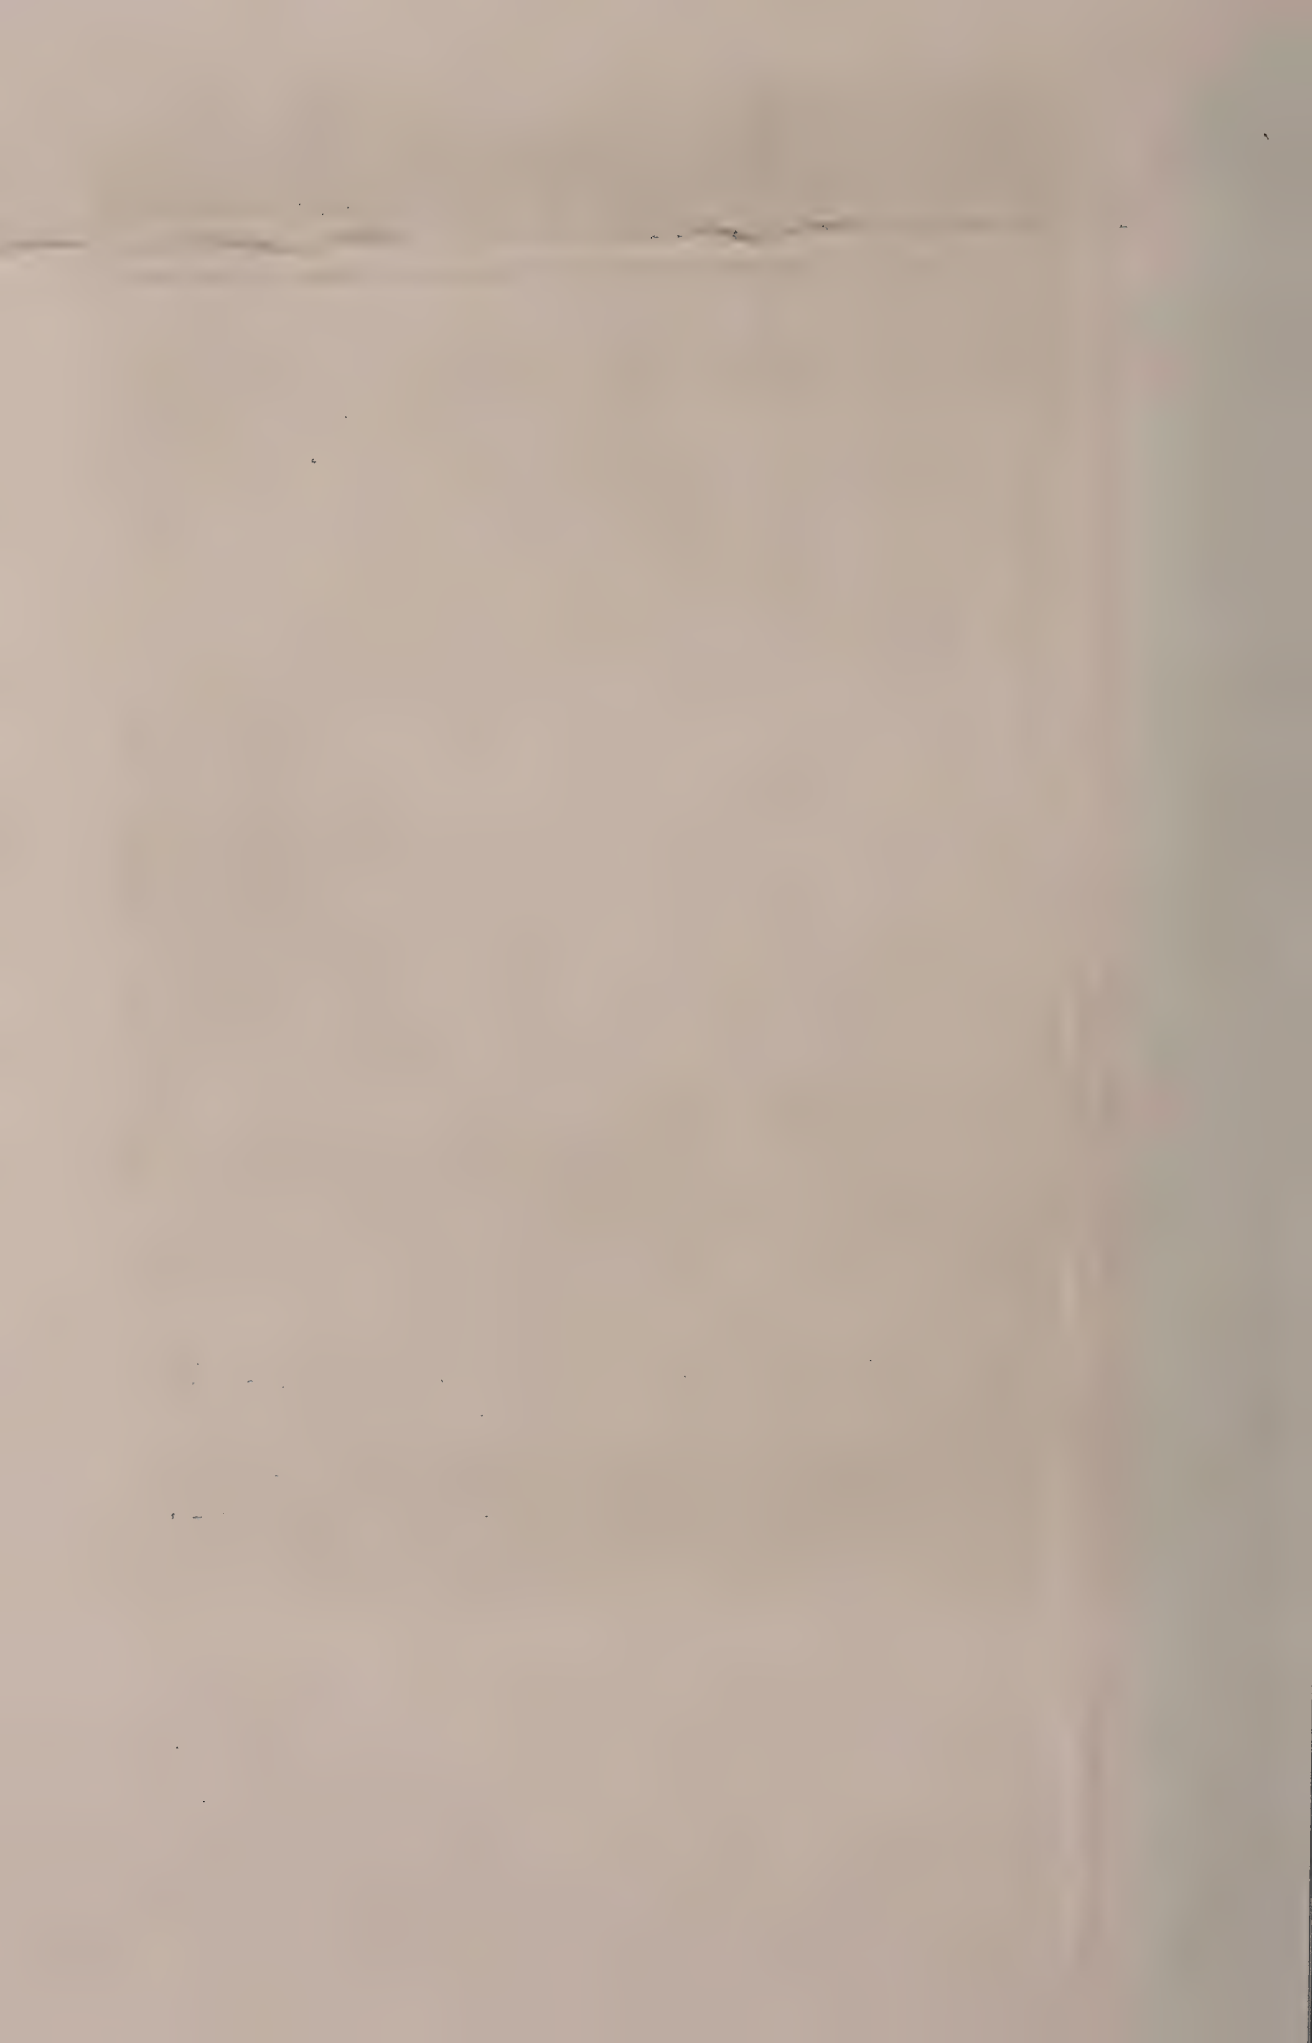

In 1833, he was residing in Cincinnati, Ohio.

It does not appear that he ever resided in Tennessee.

There are no data as to his family.

Very truly yours,

EARL D. CHURCH
Commissioner.

ANCESTOR'S SERVICES

My ancestor's services, in assisting in the establishment of American Independence during the War of the Revolution were as follows:

Frederick Horn enlisted at Easton, Pennsylvania, Jan. 8, 1776, as private in Captain Thomas Craig's Company, 3rd Pennsylvania Regiment, also designated as Captain Bunner's Company, same Regiment. He served fourteen months and was in the Expedition to Quebec under Colonel Arthur St. Clair.

(Family records state that Frederick Horn served under Colonel Anthony Wayne. This agrees with historical data--that Col. Anthony Wayne and Co. Arthur St. Clair jointly led the Expedition to Quebec.)

1790 Census, Pa, page 288 - York County.

Data proving these papers placed in Library Files. D.B.

The said FREDERICK HORN is the ancestor who assisted in establishing American Independence, while acting in the capacity of private soldier, under Capt. Thomas Craig, Col. Arthur St. Clair, 2nd Battalion, Pa. Line, Pension claim-S. 3321; certificate #15005.

Give references by volume and page to the documentary or other authorities for--MILITARY RECORD: Where reference is made to unpublished or inaccessible records of service, the applicant must file the official copy.

Hi Zandra:

Things are moving slowly here. I was lucky to get some money back from the government that Dave had paid in for years for me to have a pension. this amount enabled me to get the apartment in Lake Prince Woods, Suffolk, VA, Apt 322. I have a move in date of May 1.

Am hoping my sons can come and move me but if not, I know a couple of guys in the Park who will do it.

No further info. from the lawyer yet. He says I can sell the house but it is listed in the trust so makes me a little skeptical. The appraisers came on T'uesday so should get the report Monday, I hope.

Sorry you have to go into the hospital but hopefully, this will be a great benefit for you.

Just finished the above sentence when I got the appraisal. I'm disappointed in the price but guess mobile homes are not selling well now. Fortunately, I can afford to wait for my price if I want to.

There was to Martha, George and Willard.

The major thing that gave Warfield its name there was a battle fought there in the Civil War between the Yanks and the Rebels. Bubbie Horn was in that battle he was a union soldier. some Rebel soldiers had shot a many ball in the ground.

Bubbie stopped his fighting and started digging minnie balls out of the ground some of the men told him to get out of there or he would get killed. They went off and left him. When he over took them, they asked him if he got it dug out and he said yes. They asked him how big it was and he said that it was as big as his thumb.

He had a brother, Hooker Horn, that lived over on Elk Creek in the bottom below where Luther Kirk lives now. Next day three Rebels followed him to kill him.

He saw them a coming and he shot at them and missed. They hollered told him to lower his sights. He got to looking and his sights were too low and he raised them and he killed all three of them. He was behind a big rock that is still there. One the hill, his brother Hooker would not join the army. After the war was over the rebels came and got Hooker and took him to the bull pen there was a big snow on the ground. He jumped ot of the house barefoot. The rebels ran him up in the saw branch and caught him and took him to the bull pen. At the same time they, took my great grandpa David James to the bull pen.

JACKPOT!! That was our James and I thank you so much for giving me that clue. I received my copies of his record from WV today. Jane had filed for a lump sum payment after she had married David Crum. George Jarrell had given an affidavit stating that James had enlisted in the Virginia Home Guards in 1862 and was captured by the rebels abt March, 1863 and taken to Richmond to prison and returned home abt Dec, 1864. She received $100. Thanks again for your help.

Hi Zandra,

Sorry you haven't been feeling well. I know the feeling. My arithris just about gets me down some days. I have to hire someone to do all my general maintenance work around the farm. Very flusterating at times. I still keep plugging along and try not to grumble so much.

I saw your Dad's discharge at the courthouse and copied down the pertinent facts -
Benjamin Horn DOB 2-1-1924 Inez, Ky
Entered Navy 4-29-41
Discharged - 2-12-47 at Great Lakes, Ill
Rank - RMI CR
Job - Radioman 1st USN
Served on USS Cinarron; USS Camel
Medals - American Defense Ribbon w/1 star; American Area Ribbon; Asiatic Pacific Area Ribbon w/3 stars; European African Area Ribbon; WW II Victory Medal; Good Conduct Ribbon.

I am sending you a form to fill out and if you have a photo of him in uniform please attach it. I am trying to get as many of my relatives in the book as I can. You should send the form in by first of Nov. if possible.

Take care -

Joyce

page 99 How many times Golden Hawks was married is not known.
The story persists that he maintained separate households of several wives, a custom practiced by mountian patriarches. The custom, while frowned upon by many, persisted in the mountain fastnesses up to as the last quarter of the Nineteen Century.

A 53-year-old Tampa man was struck down and killed by a car last night and the driver was charged with manslaughter, police said.

The victim was identified as Drewey Horne, 8906 Ashley St.

Lt. Ed Simmons said the man who was allegedly driving the car that hit Horne, John W. Webb, 37, 309 E. Althea Ave., was booked on the manslaughter charge early this morning.

Simmons said a breathalyzer test on Webb indicated a driving-while-intoxicated reading.

Webb was not charged with DWI, Simmons said, because the manslaughter charge lodged against Webb comes under a special statute to include the DWI charge. It's a special manslaughter charge.

In Detroit, where he was making a one-day visit, Ford called the Agriculture figures "an excellent crop forecast" and said it led him to lift the embargo on grain sales to Poland.

In addition, Ford said negotiations with the Soviet Union on a five-year Soviet grain purchase contract "are continuing and we hope to conclude an agreement in the very near future."

Such a long-term agreement, designed to even out the economic impact of large-scale Soviet grain purchases, would meet a major objection of those who oppose the Soviet grain sales and would permit the embargo against them to be lifted.

THE ESTIMATE for corn, a key raw material for producers of meat, poultry, milk and other livestock foods, was slightly higher than the previous 5.647-billion bushel record set in 1973 and was 1 per cent larger than the Sept. 1 estimate and 23 per cent bigger than last year's weather-ravaged crop.

The figure also appeared to harden administration forecasts that 1975 retail food prices would average 9 per cent higher than 1974, compared with hikes of 14.5 per cent in the two previous years.

Now the laborer's task is over;
Now the battle day is past;

Lands the voyager at last.

There the tears of earth are dried;
There its hidden things are clear;

Funeral Services Set For Inez Man Fatally Beaten

Funeral arrangements were being completed today for Charles Glenville Horn, 38 years old, of Inez, Ky., who was fatally beaten last week in a brawl in Logan county. Horn died several hours after the fight.

Two men are being held on charges of murder growing out of the death. They are Clayton Messer of Mt. Gay, and Junior Jarvis of the Naugatuck area.

Although Horn was listed as a resident of Inez, it is reported that the fight took place in his temporary residence in Cherry Tree.

Logan county Deputy Raymond Bias said the two men entered Horn's house and started the fight. The deputy said the cause was not known but one officer declared that a woman is said to have been involved.

Horn is survived by his wife, Bertha Blankenship Horn, of Inez, Ky.; three sons, James Raymond, and Everett, all at home; two daughters, Eunice, and Eula, both at home; two brothers, John, of Kentucky, and Benny, who is serving with the United States Navy; and five sisters, Mrs. Blanche Marcum, Mrs. Lilly Marcum, Mrs. Sadie Whitt, Mrs. Helen Whitt, and Mrs. C. A. Webb, all of Marion county, Ky.

The body was taken to the home of his brother, John Horn, Monday, at Turkey Creek in Martin county, Ky.

Horn had been employed by the Earlston Coal Co., at Kermit about 30 years.

Naugatuck Man Faces Possible Murder Charge

A Mingo county man, said to have been identified as Junior Jarvis of the Naugatuck area, was held in the Logan county jail today where he and a companion face possible murder charges.

Jarvis and Clayton Messer of Mount Gay were arrested after a fight with Charlie Horn, of Cherry Tree, near Logan. Horn died last night of serious head injuries.

Jarvis and Messer previously were charged with maiming and were bound over for grand jury action. They pleaded innocent.

Sheriff's officers said today that the charge will be changed to murder.

All of the details of the fight are not known. Deputy Sheriffs Jim Brown and Raymond Bias said they were informed that Messer and Horn got into a fight over Messer's wife and that Jarvis also took part in the scrap.

Horn identified the pair as his assailants Saturday several hours after the attack and a few hours before his death occurred at Mercy Hospital.

Some officers were of the opinion that Horn was struck over the head with a heavy instrument which caused deep gashes and injured one eye. Deputy Brown was quoted as stating that he believed

Five Hundred Mourn Two Boulder Victims

21 July 1976

Approximately 500 friends and neighbors were at the Turkey Nazarene Church last Tuesday as funeral services were held for Ronald and Connie Horn, the young couple that was crushed to death by a huge boulder.

And as the funeral services were being conducted a team of geologists from the University of Kentucky were examining the site of the rock and the other rocks in the area. (See separate story this section.)

The geologists reported (in agreement with fearful residents) that two more hazardous conditions remained at the site Tuesday.

That condition was corrected later in the week by county work crews however and residents that had left the area because of the hazardous conditions started moving back into their homes Thursday.

The geology team reported that the boulder that killed the Horns' would have come down sooner or later, with or without the nearby strip mining activity.

Following the geologists report county work crews returned to the hill on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to break one of the huge boulders into smaller, less dangerous pieces.

The geologists reported that similar conditions exist throughout Eastern Kentucky and that caution should be used in the location of any structure in the vicinity of rock cliffs.

Boulder Would Have Fallen Sooner Or Later

By: Joe Ward
Courier-Journal Staff Writer

LEXINGTON — The boulder that killed an Inez coal miner and his wife Sunday was geologically situated so that it would have come down sooner or later, with or without nearby strip-mine activity, a state geologist said yesterday.

Martin Noger, of the Kentucky Geologic Survey office here, also said two hazardous conditions continue to exist above the small Martin County neighborhood where the two deaths occurred.

Noger led a geologic team to the rockfall site Tuesday after reading newspaper accounts of Sunday's tragedy. He said he found that the fatal boulder was part of a broken sandstone cliff that rests about 200 feet above the demolished house on a thin layer of crumbly rock.

He said the evidence is that wind and rain had worn away at the crumbly layer until it could no longer support the boulder, which "just tipped and went."

The boulder demolished the small frame home of Ronald Horn, 27, and his wife, Connie, 26. Coal miners at the site Monday estimated that the boulder weighed about 50 tons.

Noger said the remainder of the sandstone cliff above the demolished house and several nearby houses rests on the same crumbly rock and will eventually fall also.

The cliff was described Monday by Martin County Judge Ray Fields as one containing several boulders somewhat smaller than the one that killed the Horns. He said he has a team working at the site to break the boulders into smaller, less hazardous sizes.

Noger said the "skid trail" left by the large boulder poses a threat of erosion and subsequent mud and debris slides to the houses below the cliff.

He suggested revegetation should be undertaken there as soon as possible.

Noger warned in his report that "the geologic factors that resulted in this disaster exist throughout Eastern Kentucky." He said, "caution should be used in the location of any structure in the vicinity of rock cliffs."

The proximity of a strip mine operated by the Howard Stepp Coal Co. to the rockfall led to investigations by Kentucky reclamation and mines and minerals officials in addition to that undertaken by the geologists.

21 July 1976
The reclamation investigation turned up no connection between the mine operation and the slide. The mines and minerals probe, which centers on Stepp's use of explosives in his mining activity, is expected to continue for "two or three weeks," though preliminary results indicate no connection.

State Geologist Walter Hagan, who sent Noger and his team to the site

Tuesday, indicated he thinks Stepp's operation may, in fact, be more a part of the solution than of the problem.

Stepp told newsman his mining activity actually is incidental to the creation of flat sites for home building across a ridge from the slide site. Hagan said such sites probably will be safer for building than was the site of the Horn home.

This huge boulder came to a halt only a few feet behind the Horns' residence, preventing even further damage and injury.

and Claiborne; and in 1870 the old 13th civil district of Hawkins County became part of Hamblen County, created that year out of Jefferson and Grainger counties.⁹

Many of the early Hawkins County records, including county court minutes, marriage register, estate books, guardians' accounts, from the county court clerk's office, were destroyed in November, 1863, when Federal soldiers invaded the office, carried the records to the center of adjacent Depot Street, and set them afire.¹⁰

The wills were re-recorded from the surviving original instruments. The marriage records were never recopied. The present marriage registers begin in June, 1865. In 1932 Mr. Prentiss Price of Rogersville copied the surviving original loose marriage bonds and licenses. His copy was checked twice, the last time in 1954, and in 1958 was published as Volume 2 of Tennessee Marriage Records (Knoxville, Clinchdale Press, 174 p.)

Mr. James Woods Rogan (1823-1891) was keenly interested in the history of the county and used many of the records before the Civil War. He wrote two series of articles which were published in the Presbyterian Witness in 1859 and 1860, and in the Rogersville Review, December 19, 1889, to November 27, 1890. The latter series was reprinted in the same newspaper from May 14 to August 13, 1953.

The following lists were copied by Prentiss Price from loose manuscripts, but are incomplete for each year covered. Presumably there were once books of recorded lists in the county court clerk's office, which were destroyed during the war. Microfilm and typewritten copies of the original lists are in the McClung Collection, Lawson McGhee Library, Knoxville. The library also has lists for companies commanded by Gillenwaters in 1809 and 1811 and by Lucas in 1811.

The county courts in Tennessee were authorized to levy taxes on property by a legislative act passed October 25, 1797,¹¹ in which types of taxable property were listed and the method of taking the taxes was prescribed. Other acts were passed amending minor provisions of this act. An act passed November 7, 1803, imposed taxes on additional types of property and made some changes in the method of taking the lists.¹² By the second section of this act, the tax rate was set at the following:

For each 100 acres of land 12½ cents; for each town lot 25 cents; on each free poll and male servant 12½ cents; on each slave 25 cents; on each stud horse kept for the season of mares, the sum equal to the season of one mare; on each billiard table $1,000; on each retail store $25.00; on each pedler or hawker $25.00. According to the census of 1810 the population of Hawkins County was 7,643, including 930 slaves.¹³
